DIGITAL AUDIT

eCommerce Equation

The eCommerce equation presents a clear and concise framework for driving growth and profitability.

$$\text{Revenue} = \text{Traffic} \times \text{Conversion Rate} \times \text{AOV}$$

SEO Process

01.

Crawl

A search engine bot "visits" your website, scans through the pages, and downloads the content (text, images, links).

02.

Index

Downloaded content is analyzed and stored in a database called "the index" to be accessible via search results.

03.

Rank

Your website is assigned a position in the search engine results page (SERP) based on its relevance to a specific search query.

04.

Convert

Website visitors turn into customers through effective calls-to-action and user experience design.

Title Tags

Title tags tell Google what each page is about and are a key factor in organic rankings.

Current Title Tag	Optimized Title Tag
The EG-1 - Weber Workshops	The EG-1 Premium Electric Coffee Grinder Weber Workshops
Blink Shaker - Weber Workshops	Blind Shaker Coffee Distribution Tool Weber Workshops
The BIRD - Weber Workshops	The BIRD Vacuum Coffee Brewer Weber Workshops

An optimized title tag includes valuable keywords and is under ~65 characters to avoid truncation.

Header Tags

Like title tags, header tags tell Google what each page is about and are important ranking signals.

Daily instruments that better your daily routine.

Header tags are used throughout each page but do not target relevant, high-value keywords.

Alt Tags

Alt tags help search engines better understand the content of an image, improving keyword rankings/SEO.

Site Speed

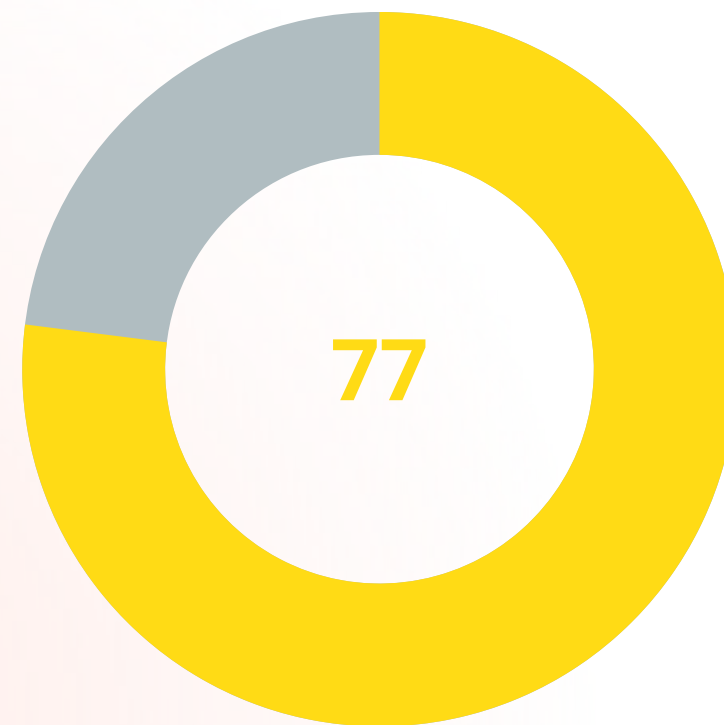

Site speed is a key ranking factor and users will leave a website prematurely if it doesn't load quickly.

Mobile Speed

Desktop Speed

According to Google data, 53% of visits are abandoned if a mobile site takes longer than 3 seconds to load.

Page Content

"Content is king" -- all page content should be optimized to target relevant, high-value keywords.

Avoid "thin content" by adding more info on product pages and the homepage. Product FAQs are an SEO-friendly way to do this (Fellow does this).

Blog

SEO-optimized blogs drive long-term sales, retention, and organic traffic growth.

Consistency is key -- I recommend posting blogs at least twice per month for optimal SEO performance and steady growth in keyword portfolio.

CTAs & Internal Links

CTAs and internal links should be descriptive and informative for both humans and search engines.

Internal links signal to Google what the page is about. Make the link's anchor text more descriptive for both humans and crawlers.

Google Merchant Center

Optimize and monitor Google Merchant Center to take advantage of listings on Google's properties.

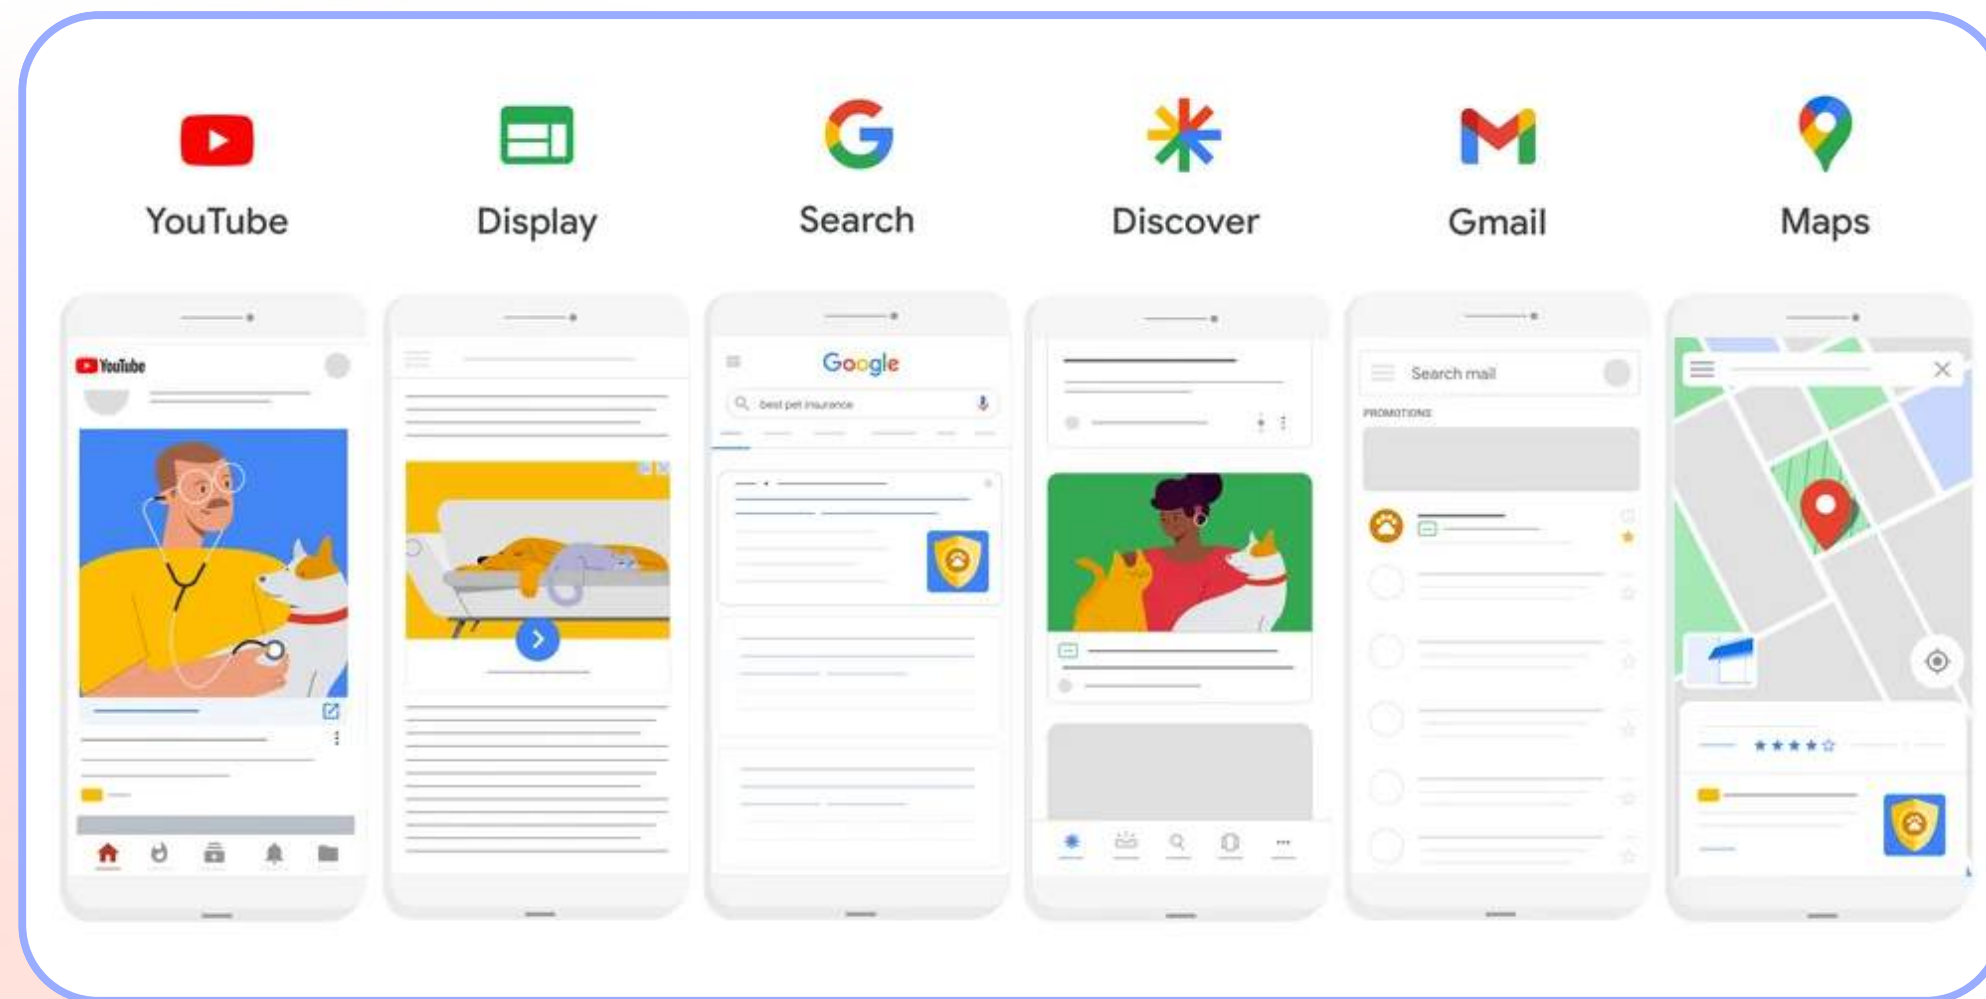

Monitor Google Merchant Center regularly for issues in your product feed. Optimize your feed to improve performance in free and paid listings.

Performance Max

PMax uses AI to help you reach customers across all of Google's advertising channels, including Shopping.

This campaign type uses the product feed to show product-specific ads to users across the web -- a full funnel approach in one campaign.

YouTube Ads

YouTube ads are a powerful way to target potential customers, especially through coffee channels.

Utilize existing, top-notch video content to target top and middle of the funnel.
Can even target specific coffee channels and videos (e.g. EG-1 reviews).

Meta ASC+

ASC+ uses machine learning to identify and target your highest value customers across all of Meta's apps.

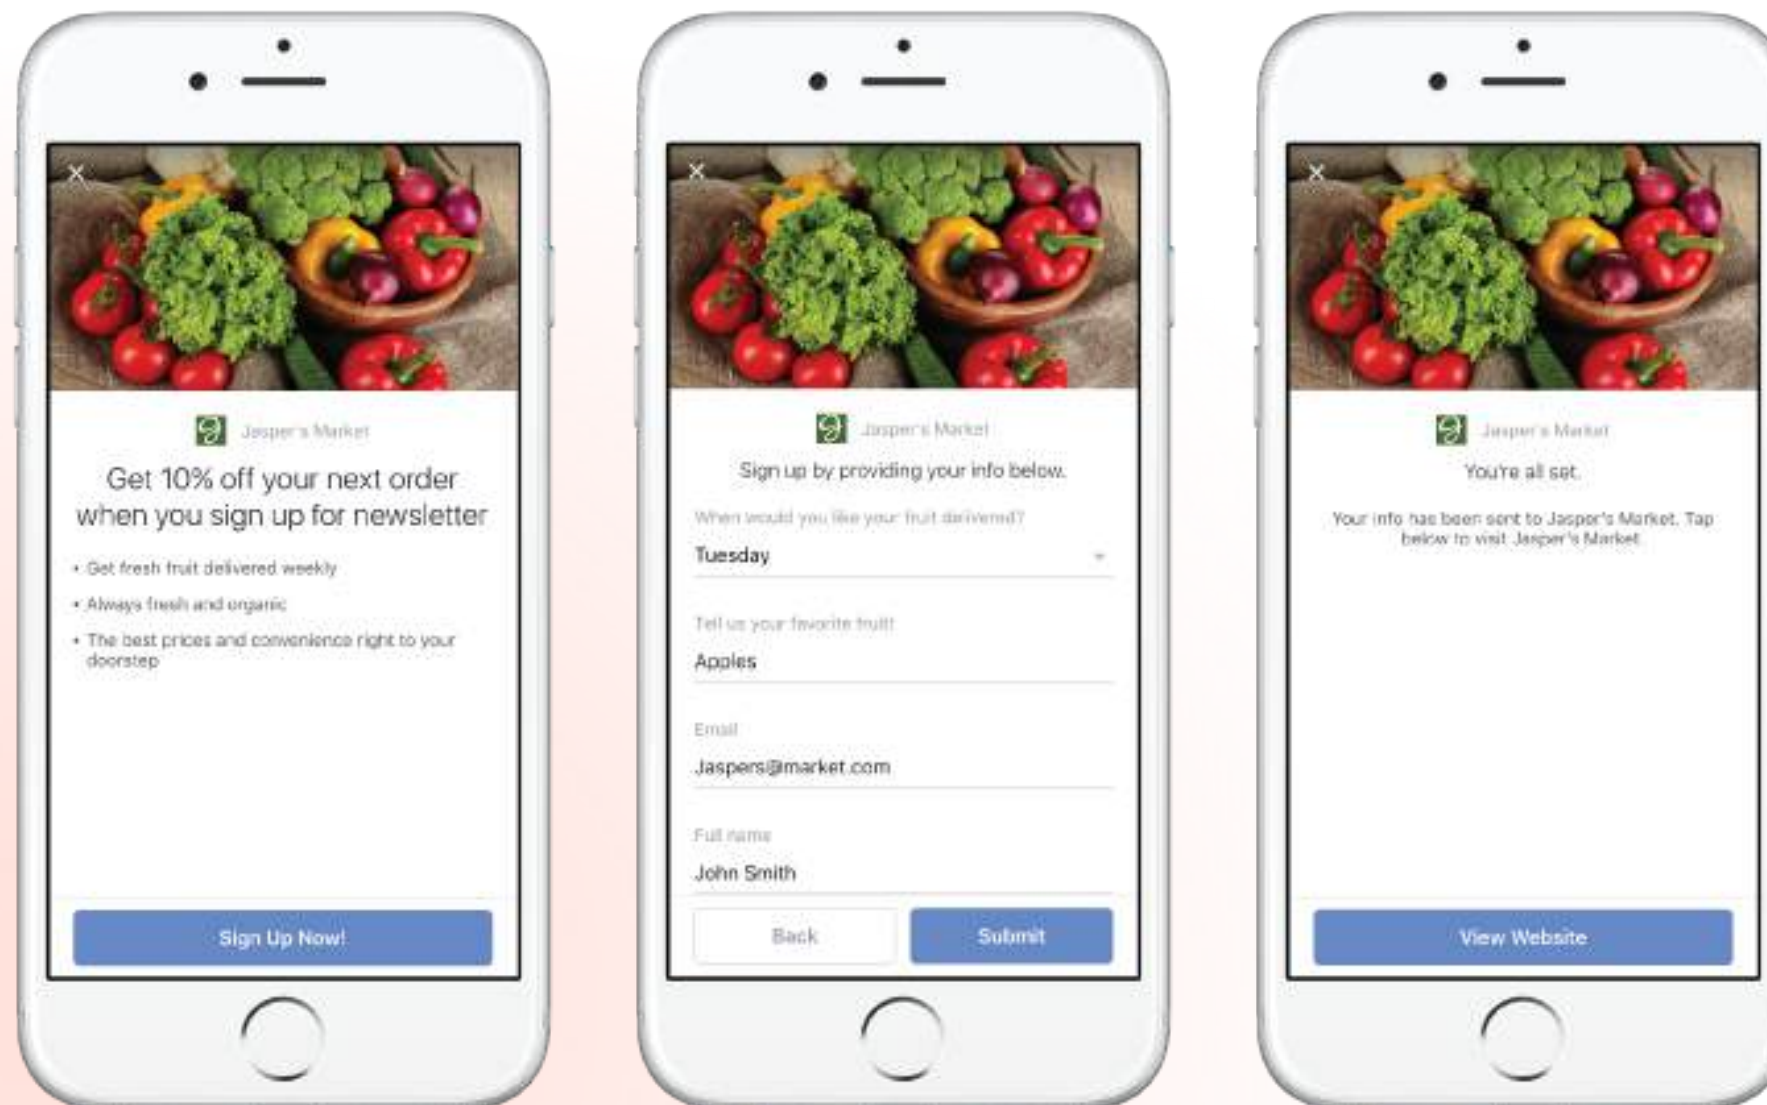

Advantage+ Shopping Campaigns (ASC+) uses your product feed to showcase your products across Meta's apps. This usually results in a high ROI.

Meta Lead Ads

Capture emails from users who might be interested in your products and add them to marketing emails.

Use verbiage such as “Be the first to know about deals on coffee tools and grinders from Weber Workshops!” to gather emails from potential customers.

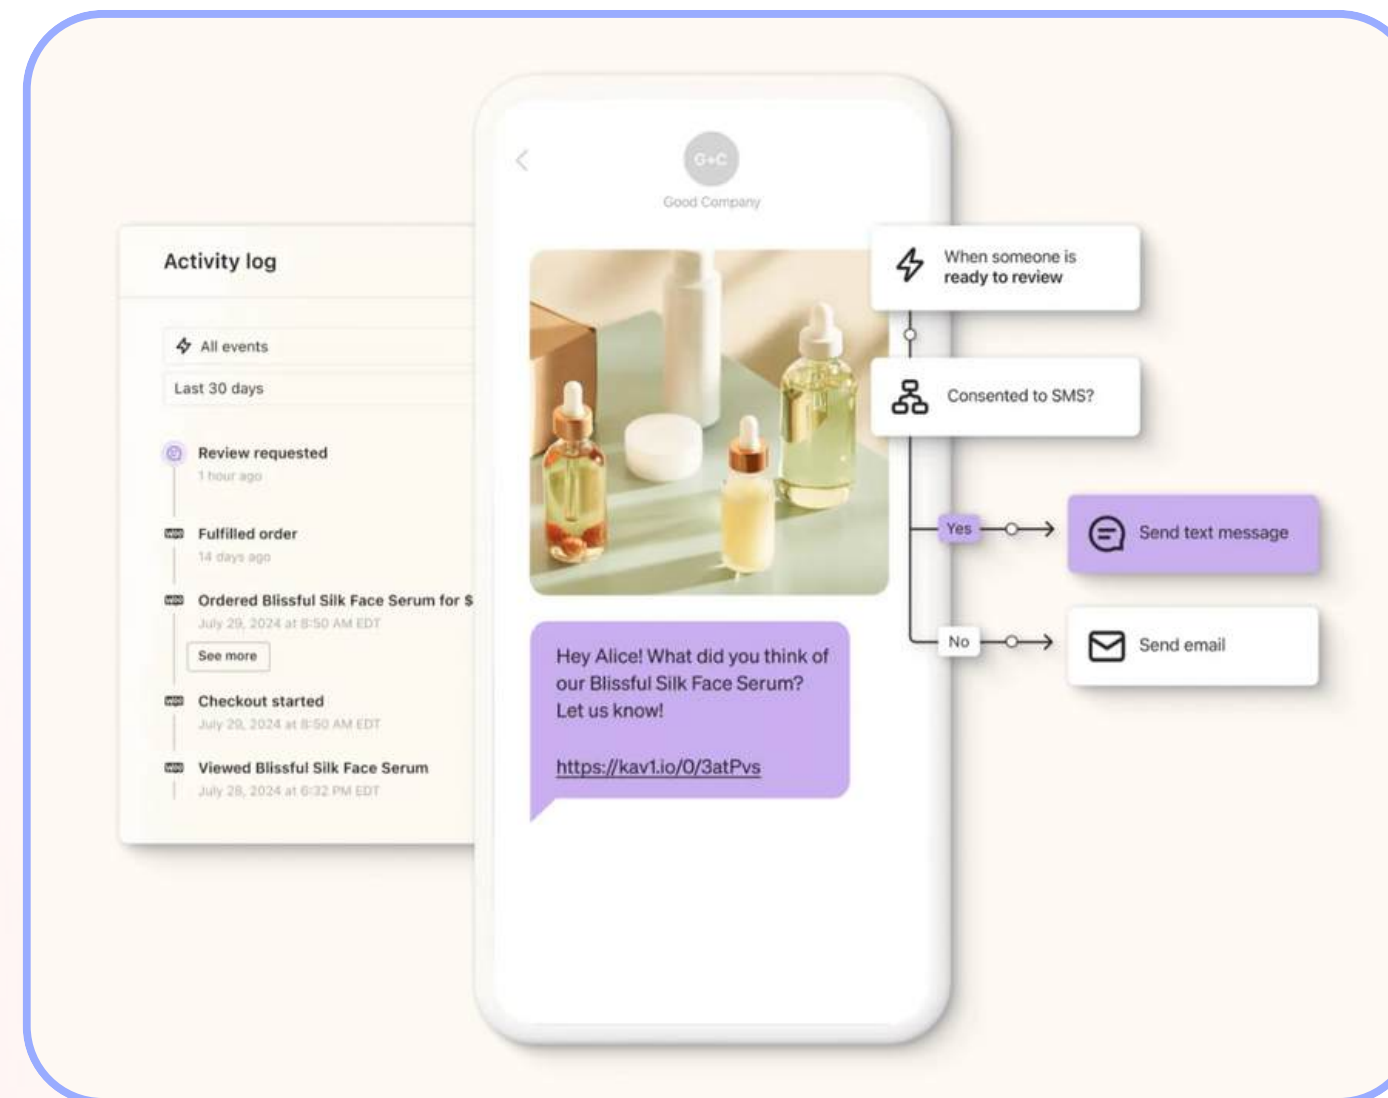

Surveys & Reviews

Solicit reviews to establish trust with potential customers. These reviews also show up in Google Shopping.

Gain insightful feedback and retain loyal customers by soliciting surveys and reviews. Sync these with Google Shopping and add them to the product pages.
